

Gardener For Rogers Relates Details Up To Shooting of Evelyn Hoey

Says Rogers Had Few Drops of Blood on His Fingers When He Returned From the Upstairs Room.

THREATENED SELF

Japanese Cook Also Describes the Struggle To Restrain Rogers From Killing Himself.

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP).—Claude Battin, 50-year-old gardener, told a coroner's jury today that Henry H. Rogers, Jr., threatened to kill himself the night of September 11, after Evelyn Hoey, blonde torch singer, was found shot to death in his old Dutch farm house.

Battin said Rogers had "a few drops of blood on his fingers" when he returned from the upstairs room where a few seconds before the shot was heard.

The bald caretaker said he was in the kitchen and that he could see Rogers and William J. Kelley, a cameraman friend of the heir to an old fortune. They were talking and Rogers was wringing his hands. Then the shot rang out.

The witness said Rogers dashed upstairs and when he came down he was crying.

"Oh, my God! She's shot herself, my sweetheart shot herself! Where are the guns, I'll use them on myself."

Rogers listened calmly, as Battin related details leading up to the shooting, substantially the story told by Kelley through two and one half hours of questioning last night.

Battin said he arrived at the secluded farm house about 6 o'clock in the evening to talk over his wages and Rogers' dogs.

District Attorney William E. Parke took the witness back over his story and asked if he was deliberately looking through the window. Battin replied he was, that he and Rogers had talked about Rogers' dogs and that he wanted to hear what Rogers said about them.

"But I couldn't hear a word they said," he added.

Battin said Rogers and Kelley had their backs to the window. Rogers got up several times.

"At the time the shot was fired where were you looking?" the district attorney asked.

"Right straight through the window," was the answer.

Battin said he saw Rogers go to the foot of the stairs and Kelley went into the kitchen.

"Didn't you tell the officers that night that Rogers and Kelley were on the other sofa facing the window?" Parke asked.

Battin said he thought that he did not.

"Didn't you tell the officers 'There's been a murder committed'?"

The witness said he could not remember making the statement and Parke asked:

"Well, if you said it what did you mean?"

Battin repeated that he did not remember the remark, but added that he was excited at the time.

Japanese Cook Called

George Yamada, Rogers' Japanese cook, was the next witness. He testified the show-girl took apparent pleasure in cleaning and arranging the farmhouse before Rogers returned from New York, September 11.

"She straightened up the living room all day long," said Yamada, searching for words. "It looked like a very sweet house."

Yamada said he called Kelley from bed at 3 a. m. on September 11, "as requested, not one minute before, not one minute after; just 3 o'clock."

Parke led the witness through a maze of questions to the night of the shooting.

Yamada said Rogers rushed excitedly into the kitchen, crying that Miss Hoey had killed herself and saying "I wish to kill myself."

Then Yamada described the struggle to restrain Rogers.

The witness said Joseph S. Clark, Jr., a Rogers attorney, was the first person on the scene after the shooting and that Clark told him "don't let anyone in the house."

Rogers smiled as Parke asked Yamada: "Did Mr. Rogers have many drinks?" and the cook replied "same as every day."

The inquest recessed at 11:25 until 1 p. m.

Attorney Vincent P. Downey, of New York, representing the dead girl's parents, meantime refused to believe she committed suicide. He sat at counsel table as an observer.

"There's no reason in the world why she should want to take her life. People who knew her, and her sunny disposition, never believe she would do such a thing."

"There are too many angles to the case that are mysterious and probably never will see the light of day."

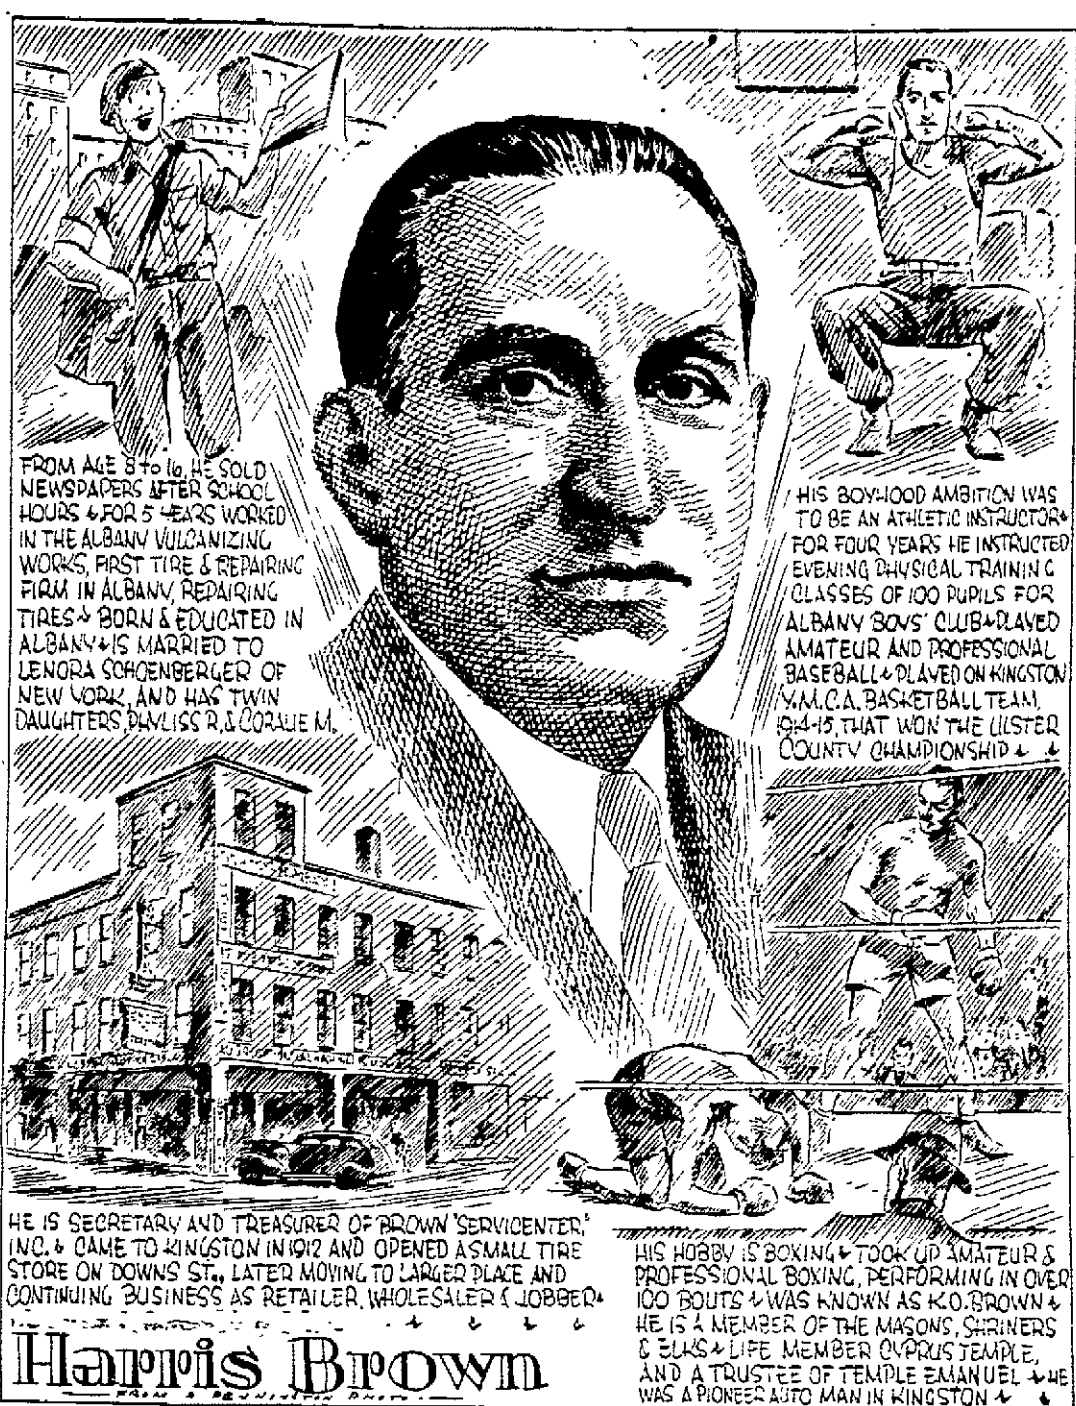

Downey said his expression represented the views of Mr. and Mrs. Hoey. Asked whether he thought any angles were being deliberately left unreported, Downey said: "I can't say about that."

Dr. Cranston's Vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. William J. Cranston are leaving Sunday to visit relatives in Walton and Vermont. His office will be closed from September 22 to the 29th, inclusive.

U.S. Chamber of Commerce To Review Past, Future of New Deal

Secretary Roper Says New Deal Measures Have Aided Business

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP).—Secretary Roper credits New Deal recovery measures with bringing about an improvement in business.

Citing figures intended to show the extent of business gains, Roper said in a radio speech last night:

"The litigants who say we have secured recovery in spite of what Roosevelt has done are certain to have their case dismissed for lack of evidence."

"But I ask all of you to bear witness with me now that these plaintive plaintiffs do admit the fact of recovery."

Roper said reliable statistics showed that the nation had "passed the primary stages of a great cyclical upswing and entered into that phase which will determine the course and duration of that upswing."

Some of the gains which the secretary of commerce said had occurred between March, 1933, and June, 1935, were:

Industrial production, 46 per cent; factory employment, 36 per cent; factory payrolls, 79 per cent; passenger automobile sales, 137 per cent; automobile production, 212 per cent; freight car loadings, 16 per cent; construction contracts, 157 per cent.

Roper said the national income was $5,000,000,000 higher in 1934 than in 1932; that stock prices of 421 leading issues were 54 per cent higher; that new corporate security issues for the first seven months of this year were almost $700,000,000 above the same period of 1933; that net profits of 413 leading corporations for 1934 were greater than for any year since 1929; and that cash farm income in 1934 was $2,000,000,000 above that of 1932.

Season Gathers Momentum.

New York, Sept. 20 (AP).—Dun & Bradstreet in its weekly review of business and industry said today that favorable influences this week enabled the fall season to gather momentum.

"The auspicious start which the fall season made last week has been enabled to rather momentum rapidly under the favorable influence of expanding consumer income and low inventory positions," the review said.

"Retail sales continued to rise, with a wider variety of merchandise included in the demand, which leaned strongly toward quality goods. Rising quotations and under-estimated consumer requirements forced merchants into wholesale markets to fill broken lines and to cover as far as possible. In contrast to the declining trend a few days ago, industrial operations were at higher."

25 Plans Reported

London, Sept. 20 (AP).—The Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company (British) today reported that 25 Italian bombing planes with a supply of stores had arrived at the Italian island of Leros in the Dodecanese group.

The island, which has an area of 24 square miles, has been reinforced by a corps of airmen and underground chambers. The dispatch stated. Reports have reached Athens during the past several weeks that the Italians have been strengthening their forces in the Dodecanese islands and turning them into hospital bases.

Democrats Prepare for New Deal Showdown in Autumn Elections

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP).—Reports criticizing some new deal policies lay before the directors of the chamber of commerce of the United States as they convened today in a major session to review the immediate past and plan for the future.

Special committees have been busy drawing up reports on legislative trends, on the farm situation, on labor legislation written into the statute books at the last session of congress, and on several other subjects.

Officials of the chamber indicated that these reports contained most of the outright criticism of the new deal that would be made public. There was some doubt a statement would be made on behalf of the board, as has been the custom in the past, though some directors were known to favor such a statement.

At this session of the board, the first since congress adjourned, plans are being made for presenting recommendations when congress convenes again. A special committee has been studying methods of business cooperation to supplant the demolished NRA codes, but whether this would lead to any recommendation for legislation was not indicated in advance.

It was said at chamber headquarters that one major report before the directors dealt with "trends in legislation." It has been drawn by a special committee headed by John W. O'Leary, and discusses enactments of the session of congress recently ended.

The question of federal expenditures is also expected to bulk large in the directors' discussions. The chamber, which has taken issue with spending policies of the administration, has urged that the budget be balanced as quickly as possible.

The chamber's committee on national resources has drafted a report on the Guffey law setting up a system of control for bituminous coal, and an agriculture committee has dissected the policies and activities of the AAA.

The capital expected that the directors would discuss the president's recent declaration that his program was substantially completed and that business could expect a "breathing spell."

Metropolitan to Move To Bank Building on Saturday, Sept. 28

Work on alterations and rebuilding of The National Ulster County Bank of Kingston building at Wall and John streets has progressed so rapidly that Architect Gerard Betz has notified the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company that occupancy of the second floor, which has been leased to the life insurance company, may be had on Saturday, September 28. At that time the second floor will be practically completed and such minor work as remains to be done can be completed after the offices are occupied.

Francis W. Helmerle, manager of the local Metropolitan Life Insurance Company office, after an inspection of the new quarters in the bank building this morning stated that he was very much pleased with the progress made and that he would be ready to move the offices from the present quarters in the Burgevin Building at Fair and Main streets on Saturday afternoon, September 28, so that on Monday morning business could go on as usual at the new location. With Sunday to straighten out the office and get settled there will be no delay in the conduct of the business of the insurance company and policyholders may transact business at the new offices on Monday, September 30.

While practically all of the work will be completed by that time some of the interior furnishings, such as counters and other woodwork which is being specially made by the Schwarzwald factory at Chichester, will not be ready for installation but will be installed when completed without delay or inconvenience to patrons of the office.

The work of facing the building with brick is rapidly nearing completion and will be completed on time. The front entrance to the bank on Wall street will be of stone, setting off the brick wall to advantage. Entrance to the two upper floors of the building will be through a newly made entrance on John street. This will be the entrance to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company offices as well as to the upper floor. Entrance to the bank itself will be on Wall street as at present.

The offices vacated by the Metropolitan Insurance Company in the Burgevin building at Fair and Main streets will be occupied by the New York City Board of Water Supply, now occupants of the Corbitt Building on Wall street adjacent to the court house. The removal of the New York city offices from the Wall street address where they have been located for many years will bring together in one building both the Department of Water, Gas and Electric Supply of the City of New York and the Board of Water Supply of the City of New York, two separate departments which have maintained offices in Kingston since the construction of the Ashokan Reservoir in Ulster county.

Financial Centers Keep Eyes on Rome, Geneva

By The Associated Press

Securities markets slumped under sporadic waves of nervous selling in principal American and European markets today, as financial centers kept anxious eyes trained on Rome and Geneva.

The New York and London Stock Exchanges were sharply lower, subject to occasional rallies.

Some of the British government bonds in both markets dropped as much as $1 to $1.50 per $100 par value, and the prices of Italian issues crumbled more rapidly.

Shares in the New York Stock Exchange declined $1 to $4 under an early selling wave, with some brokers reporting heavy offerings from Europe. Prices stiffened in Wall Street, however, after the close of foreign markets.

Securities prices broke sharply in Rome and Milan, in response to the Italian cabinet's decision for a huge war loan and heavier taxes. The Berlin and Paris markets were nervous with prices trending lower.

The recent upsurge in wheat prices was continued in Liverpool, and for a time in Winnipeg, after the close of European markets, profit taking turned cereal prices downward in the Chicago pit.

Selassie Says Nation Will Not Bribe Rome To Insure Immunity

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

Addis Ababa, Sept. 20.—Emperor Haile Selassie told the Associated Press today: "We cannot make any political, economic, or territorial concessions to Italy with compensation nor can we give Italy bribes in any other form to purchase immunity from attack."

He made this statement while reviewing thousands of modernly equipped warriors who clattered past the palace on mules and Arabian horses.

He was referring directly to the League of Nations plan for a compromise settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. The plan had been submitted to him from Geneva.

"If we did make such compromises, we would invite other attacks in the future," said the king of kings. "As an independent, sovereign empire, we insist on the preservation of our liberty, the maintenance of our economic integrity, and the inviolability of our frontiers."

"We have committed no act which in law or in morals justifies Italy in menacing us with war. We have come before the bar of international justice with clean consciences."

"Let mankind judge us on our record. Let no pretended leader of Christendom attempt to crucify an innocent people crying out for justice and mercy."

The Associated Press correspondent asked: "Premier Mussolini says he wishes to civilize Ethiopia; what does your majesty say to that?"

Waiting until the brass band heading his marching troops had ceased playing the national anthem, Haile Selassie said slowly and reflectively, stroking his grey-tinted, curly beard:

"God forbid that Italy should give us such a civilization through the instrumentality of war. One is the negation of the other."

"Our own civilization is one in which Christ himself lived. If it was suited for the greatest man of all time it is good for us."

"By this, I do not wish to say we oppose social and economic progress. Such progress has continued and will continue with all the rapidly compatible with the political, and intellectual advancement of our people within our limited financial resources."

Second Phase of War Games

Fort Lewis, Wash., Sept. 20 (AP).—The second major phase of the army's great "war game" was under way today in the Pacific northwest and today with an order by Maj. Gen. Paul B. Malone for a general attack on the theoretical "Maroon" enemy's half a million men invading Washington from the Pacific Ocean.

The first phase of the command post exercises ended with the successful completion of plans and orders, which were passed as they would be in actual wartime to assemble 514,000 officers and men for the fourth time to drive out an invader. About 200 regular army, National Guard and reserve officers are assembled here from 14 states and Washington, D. C., for the exercises.

'Crool 'Ard Time' Seen For Italians

British Veterans Of African Wars Respect Ethiopian Foes

By GODFREY ANDERSON

Chelsea, England (AP)—They are talking of war in the Royal Hospital in this pleasant London suburb. In fact they talk of little else.

More battles are refought in the placid stone-walled courts of this old soldiers' home than anywhere in Britain. But now they talk of Italy and Ethiopia.

With beer mugs handy and pipes aglow, King George's red-coated pensioners sit in groups and recall the thrills of campaigns when the penalties of soldiering were often hunger and hardship but the terrors of air bombs and poison gas were unknown.

Maps Dot Gravel Paths
Rubber-tipped sticks sketch rough maps in gravel paths and old comrades forget the rheumatism of 1935 as they recapture the days when, bewhiskered "soldiers of the queen," they followed the Union Jack to far-flung corners of the empire.

All stories begin with: "Do you remember?" And most of them end with a philosophic sigh: "Aye, a long time ago."

Here is a man who left a leg in India ("The northwest frontier, lad, in '80"); there a man who lost an eye, torn out by a native's spear in Africa.

Although the last veteran of Sir Robert Napier's 1888 capture of Magdala, Ethiopia, died years ago, there is one pensioner who remembers the expedition's victorious return.

Respect Black Foesmen
"I was just a nipper at the time," he said, "but I remember seeing 'em march through Chatham in their ragged uniforms while everybody lined the streets and cheered. They'd 'ad a crool 'ard time out there."

In the great hall of the hospital where all its most cherished relics lie, there are a few Abyssinian medals in the cases of decorations belonging to departed pensioners.

Bright and shining as the day Queen Victoria pinned them on crimson tunics, the medals rest with their multi-colored ribbons below cards which prosaically register the names and regiments of the men who earned them

One pensioner who served in British Somaliland described the Ethiopians as the bravest fighters in the world.

"They're absolutely fearless," he said, "and I ought to know—I've fought with them. They used to come over the border on cattle raids and many is the scrap we had. That's how I come to leave a leg in Africa."

Tactics And Philosophy

And another, white-moustached and with bright blue eyes, "This is what Mussolini forgets—his men will want three pairs of boots a week when they get up to those mountains.

The Ethiopians won't want any," Said Sergeant C. Bates, late of the royal horse guards, as erect at 73 as when he served in Africa:

"The Abyssinians are some of the most deadly fighters in the world." He pointed to the cloudy sky. "That's all they have to fear—the bombs that will fall from up there."

Another pensioner chuckled as he raised his beer-mug to his lips.

"What does this Mussolini want with Ethiopia anyway?" he demanded. Then added sagely:

"There's nothing there. There can't be. If there 'ad o' been, why England would 'ave taken it long ago."

London Ethiopians Heed Ruler's Call To Army Service

London (AP)—All the Ethiopian recruits in London have been called up for service in their native land.

This step is not so drastic as it sounds, as—apart from the family and staff of the Abyssinian minister who are not effected—there are only two.

One, A. Bayana, has been studying veterinary medicine in London. The other, U. Burrou, is a student of electrical science at a British university.

Prince Lies in King's Chapel.
Both are in their early twenties and both have cheerfully abandoned their plans to sit for final examinations after five years of study in this country.

Little was known of Ethiopia here until events brought the African empire leaping to the headlines of the world's press. Few Britons knew, for example, that an Abyssinian prince lies buried in St. George's chapel, where King George and Queen Mary worship when the court is in residence at Windsor Castle.

He was Prince Alamayahu, a son of the Emperor Theodore, and he died, they say, a victim of the English climate.

His life story, if short, was romantic. When Lord Napier captured Magdala April 13, 1868, and found Theodore had shot himself, he brought the royal orphan to England. For a time the prince studied at Cheltenham, later transferring to Rugby, and then to Sandhurst, where officers are trained for the British army.

Envoy Also Wail Of Battle.

At the time of his death he was in Leeds, where he was receiving special coaching from a professor at the university before taking one of the Sandhurst examinations.

In many ways the prince's early life paralleled that of Dr. Albert Martin, the Ethiopian minister.

Dr. Martin, too, was a wail from the Magdala battlefield. He was the first Abyssinian to get a degree at a British university—Edinburgh—and he still has a Scottish accent.

DOUBTER LONDON DOCKS GIVE SIX HUNDRED JOBS

London (AP)—Work is proceeding rapidly on the new five-year $8,550,000 development scheme to widen and deepen the Thames at the London docks.

Steady work will be given 600 men for five years on the project, which is designed to make the facilities at Royal Victoria and Royal Albert docks the most modern in the world.

The depth of water in the basin will be increased from 24 to 31 feet, and electric cranes installed to replace the present steam ones.

Particular interest attaches to the Royal Victoria dock, whose famous old jetty, built in 1855, are being replaced by 5,000 feet of new quay.

At one time to accommodate the largest ships afloat, these piers now barely berth vessels of 20,000 tons.

Royal Albert dock will have new quays totaling 3,350 feet.

Appetites Soar At State Fair

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 20.—While most persons munched peanuts, popcorn, and hot dogs, a lesson in "appetites" was furnished by the 4-H Club cafeteria at the New York state fair in Syracuse this year.

Only 4-H Club members and students of vocational agriculture were privileged to eat in this cafeteria which was operated by club agents for service and not for profit.

Nearly 12,000 meals were served, about 1,000 more than in 1934; and 700 represented the largest number served at one meal, 150 more than the highest of last year. An average of 500 boys and girls scooped up their vitamins during the daily noon hour. The boys and girls selected meals that cost on an average of about a dollar a day.

Here's a partial list of how bad or how good appetites really were, based on the amount of food consumed:

Nine hundred and thirty-eight quarts of milk in bulk; 5,510 half-pint bottles of chocolate milk; 2,440 half-pint bottles of plain milk; 35 quarts of light cream; 34 quarts of heavy cream; and 31 gallons of ice cream.

Six hundred and seventy-two loaves of bread; 346 dozen rolls; 370 pounds of butter; 432 dozen eggs; 17 gallons of mayonnaise; 1,167 pounds of meat; eight crates of oranges; 88 dozen ears of corn; 50 head of cabbage; 17 stalks of celery; one bag of onions; 34 bushels of potatoes; one bushel of carrots.

One hundred and fifty-six pounds of baked beans; three cases of salmon; 11 cases of pineapple; 37 pounds of coffee; five cases of grapefruit; and a variety of other canned goods, cereals, fruits, and vegetables.

Service for New York's up-and-coming farm population resulted in the use by attendants of 20 coats, 18 pairs of pants, 229 aprons, 1,049 towels, 21 dresses, and 39 table cloths.

The cafeteria was in charge of Ernestine Hine Thayer of Delmar and F. E. Heinzelman, Ithaca. The active committee consisted of George Burkhardt of Mineola, Arthur Woodard of Canandaigua, Dave Fales of Cortland, Charles Reed of Watertown, and Floyd Strombeck of Syracuse.

The Barbara Bell Pattern Book featuring Fall Designs is ready. Send 15 cents today for your copy.

Pattern No. 1755-B

Simple, Youthful Dress for the Street

Sleeves are important in any number of the new fall designs. In this frock the sleeves are an interesting part of the design, although the dress is by no means subordinated to accent their smartness. They are long and puffed softly at the wrist, and are a part of the little yoke, which manages the broad shouldered effect which is another good thing to watch in the new clothes. The neckline has mounted to the base of the throat in this design, the soft, rolling collar and huge bow really giving the effect of just a touch more height. The blouse is buttoned from neck to waistline, gathers furnishing the bloused effect. Godets make for front fullness in the skirt, and for the slightly wider, though still straight silhouette.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1755-B is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 and 40. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 (34) requires about 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material, and 1/2 yard for contrast.

FRANCE LIMITS TIPS FOR PORTERS IN PARIS

Paris (AP).—The French government has made itself arbiter of the long battle between public and porter by setting a standard schedule of tips.

Often porters are over-tipped and then get more, just because the tourists' knowledge of French money, language and customs is inadequate.

Now two francs, or 14 cents, is charged for the first valise or package and one franc for each additional burden.

Porters are forbidden to ask for more, no matter what the hour or the size of the package.

Juvenile Crime Plagues Turkey

Istanbul (AP).—Sukru Saracoglu, minister of justice, has announced that juvenile courts will be opened in all the chief cities of Turkey to deal with child criminals. It is estimated that in Istanbul alone the police arrest 5,000 vagabond boys and girls a year.

Polish Teacher Turns Bandit

Radom, Poland (AP).—After villagers hereabouts had been terrorized for a year by a robber in a black mask, he was caught when a traveling salesman fought him, seizing his revolver although the bandit escaped. The gun was traced to a country school teacher.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Knitwear enters the boudoir
Liana Merwin

Many fashion surprises are in store for those who delight in wearing the new things first, whether it be outer apparel, accessories, millinery, intimate, out-of-sight garments or styles for the boudoir.

For the coming cool weather season, designers have dared to be different by knitting boudoir robes and pajamas of sheer wool—unusually attractive styles with the added comfort and warmth of wool, making them doubly desirable, especially in colder climates. These new styles are beautifully done in white and pastel colorings—the shell pinks and French blues being particularly attractive for boudoir wear.

In the sketch above at top is shown a white, ankle length robe of light weight wool, knitted in a lacy stitch with wide, notched revers, loose sleeves, crocheted buttons and a self-sash, having long tasseled ends.

The two-piece pajama sketched on the lower figure is also of knitted wool, edged with hand crochet. Fine tailoring is displayed in this model of shell pink color. The long sleeved top fastens with one frog and a button on the left shoulder while the waistline ties with a self-belt. The trousers are designed very full and wide at the ankles and hug the figure closely at top with an elastic waistband.

Would Close Jail

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP).—A new move to close the Cayuga county jail at Auburn, condemned for years as unsafe, insanitary and inadequate, was undertaken today by the State Commission of Correction. Walter W. Nicholson, a member of the commission, urged that Cayuga county authorities be summoned "without further delay" to show cause why the jail should not be closed.

Important Women's Federation Meeting

The first fall meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs was held on Thursday afternoon at the city library, Mrs. Fred P. Luther, president, presiding. It proved to be an exceedingly busy and important meeting. The official report on the recent Flower Show and Fall Festival was anxiously awaited and enthusiastically received and plans for the Federation future which will be of interest to the people of Kingston were formulated.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Luther. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. William Kemble, still in Tacoma, slowly convalescing from her serious injury, Mrs. Clarence Dumm read the minutes of the last meeting which bore particularly on the day's activity.

It was voted to leave the appointing of a temporary secretary to take Mrs. Kemble's place until her return, to the president and Mrs. C. N. Reed acted in that capacity for the meeting.

While all present were keenly aware of the great success of the flower show in every feature of the show itself, the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Grover Lasher was awaited with special interest. Even the optimistic hopes of those present were eclipsed when Mrs. Lasher announced that the total receipts of the flower show were $655.49 and the disbursements, $194.38, leaving a full balance of $461.21, a very splendid showing. Not only was the report accepted as given, but hearty thanks went along for the arduous work of accurately carrying through the complicated financial details, in which Mrs. Lasher was ably assisted by the business-like methods employed by Mrs. Luther, chairman in general of the flower show.

Three interesting letters were read from the three ladies who won the better homes prizes for the first, second and third prizes for good homes entirely built by boys fourteen years or younger, donated by the Federation of Women's Clubs. Clayton Myers, who won the first prize of $5 for the house he built, thanked the Federation for the prize with which he bought himself new clothes. Theodore Barton, winner of the second prize of $3 was grateful for the money which he had decided "either to bank or spend for a new pair of shoes," and Raymond Barton said his thank-yous for the $2 he won, the first prize he had ever won.

Mrs. Luther also read a letter from Mrs. Almeron Smith, president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, after her return home from the flower show, in which she heartily thanked Mrs. Luther and the Federation for the privilege to attend a very real and most attractive flower show and for the privilege of naming one of the rare and beautiful flowers.

Words of very cordial appreciation were spoken of the helpfulness and courtesy of Superintendent Williams, of the Municipal Auditorium.

Mrs. Luther most cordially thanked every one in the Federation and all of the friends outside the Federation who by effort, the loaning of needed articles or generous services of whatever sort, had had their part, small or large, in the success of the flower show, and the executive committee with enthusiasm and all sincerity thanked their president for her devotion, capability, tirelessness and graciousness in carrying through so large a project with such consummate success.

The clubs present simply reported on topics of study for the coming year, dates of first meetings and, where already chosen, the appointments of delegates and representatives to the executive committee meetings. The chairman of the good government committee and the public health committee asked for increased interest in both activities the coming season. Mrs. Frank Thompson, phone 443-M, chairman of the child welfare committee, asked for nothing for a little girl three years of age; a warm coat for a semi-invalid, who must be kept out of doors, size 36 or 38, and clothing for a school girl about 16 years of age.

The motion picture committee reported that a meeting had been called for the Kingston Better Films Council, but owing to the small attendance had been put forward to next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Luther. A decided improvement in the character and presentation of pictures of the immediate future was noted and gratification over past improvement was expressed.

Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell, chairman of the membership committee, reported the following names for membership, all being unanimously accepted and welcomed into the Federation: Mrs. C. M. Niles, High Falls; Mrs. James A. Mather, Miss Nellie Donovan, Mrs. Harry Klotz, Miss Margaret V. Keane, Mrs. Sidney Marks, Mrs. Charles D. O'Reilly, Mrs. George D. Loran, Mrs. Peter Myers, Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Arthur Carr, Mrs. Joseph Forman, Mrs. Minnie Iralia, Mrs. Fred Dwyer, Mrs. Fred Diehl, Mrs. R. N. Gross.

Mrs. A. Noble Graham, chairman of the committee appointed to revise the constitution of The Federation, reported on a meeting of the committee held on Monday of this week and read the revised form as prepared by that committee. There were no changes offered and the revision will be presented at the coming open meeting of The Federation for final action.

Mrs. Luther read a letter just received from Mrs. Maloney of The Herald Tribune Women's Conference to be held at the Waldorf Astoria, October 13, 14 and 15, the general topic to be "America's Place in the World Today: Her Responsibilities and the Threat against her National Life." The letter warned that there would be a much greater attendance than on previous occasions for the meeting if possible. These plans have been through Mrs. Luther. Word was received from Mrs. Maloney that she had completed the work of mending, assorting and covering the valuable collection of piano music, the gift of the late Lillian Miller Hemstreet, and that it was now ready for the assistance of Mrs. Reed in cataloging that it may be placed in circulation at the City Library for music students, a memorial to Mrs. Hemstreet. Miss Luther was given a hearty vote of thanks for this labor of love and it was announced that if possible the music would be ready for circulation early in October. Miss Luther was also given a vote of thanks for her indefatigable efforts for the Flower Show, so graciously and efficiently given.

Announcement was made that the October open meeting would be held on Saturday afternoon, October 19, and would be in charge of a special committee composed of the presidents of each of the affiliated clubs and the Public Health Committee, backed by all of the clubs and the committee. The speaker for the occasion will be Commodore Herbert Hartley, former commander of the U. S. Navy, who will tell of the thrills and joy of the sea, as he has experienced it.

Attention was called to a condition in our city which if not promptly removed will be the cause of far-reaching discomfort if not downright illness to many of our citizens this coming year—the quantities of over-ripe weeds especially rag weed of enormous growth, now scattering seeds to the four winds from vacant lots and roadways in our city. The city authorities are urged by The Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs to take the needed action immediately to have such weeds cut down and removed where they can do no further harm this fall. The meeting closed with a matter which it is hoped will be of real interest to the people of Kingston and particularly our high school students.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Clara Norton Reed, it was made possible and within the means of the Federation to bring to Kingston in October Walter W. Allerton of Somersworth, New Hampshire, of "Allerton World Wanderings" fame, to lecture on "Imperial Pekin." The date set is Wednesday, Oct. 23. For several years Mr. Allerton has been gaining an authoritative reputation for his lectures on China which he has long made a study of and which he has been visiting yearly for the past seven years. Last year it was his privilege to spend several weeks in "Imperial Pekin," with all of its marvels of art, architecture, historic romance and tragedy. During that time Mr. Allerton was permitted to take many pictures of "The Forbidden City," "The Winter Palace," "The Summer Palace," etc., in addition to being the recipient of several government pictures, a collection not to be equalled anywhere today. Mr. Allerton will show these exquisitely colored lantern slides in connection with his lecture, which with its story of the Imperial China of the past is a fascinating, cultural and of invaluable historic worth. The Federation wishing that the interested people of Kingston and especially the young people of the high school might have the rare privilege of hearing and seeing this lecture is inviting the high school students and the public to attend this lecture as the Federation's guests at The Kingston High School on the evening of October 23. No admission will be charged. Mr. Allerton is a cousin of Mrs. Reed.

No Hauptmann Case Decision Expected

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 20 (AP).—Bruno Richard Hauptmann in a death cell after his conviction of the kidnap murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., still protests his innocence. He was visited yesterday, the anniversary of his arrest in the Bronx, by Col. Mark O. Kimberling, prison warden. He told Colonel Kimberling he was innocent.

The court of errors and appeals conferred on pending decisions and recessed until October 7. It was indicated that Hauptmann's appeal was not considered and that no ruling would be handed down for several weeks.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz and C. Lloyd Fisher issued denials of a report that the prisoner had been offered a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment if he would name possible accomplices.

ACCEPTED by Science and the American People

Laboratories have devoted years of research to discover the facts about lard. These tests show that Kellogg's All-Bran is a natural laxative food for normal people.

As a result, All-Bran has been accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods, and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Millions of Americans use All-Bran to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. For All-Bran supplies generous, mild "bulk," which continues to be effective when used for months. All-Bran also furnishes vitamins B and E, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Hopkins' Ruling Seen As End of New York WPA Wage Dispute

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP).—Settlement of the WPA wage dispute in New York city and other Empire State communities appeared in the offing today as the result of a ruling issued by Works Progress Administrator Harry Hopkins.

Hopkins, while insisting that the federal government has no intention of changing the security wage level under the $4,380,000,000 work relief program, said yesterday that the total weekly working period of persons employed on WPA projects in New York may be changed subject to a maximum eight-hour day, 40-hour week. The security wage established for New York city by the WPA is $93.50 a month. It is lower in other communities.

The new order was generally understood to have been given as a means of meeting the demands of building trade unions in New York city for the "prevailing rate" or union rates of wages for union members employed at their trades on work relief projects. The prospective changes will be left to the state administrators, Lester W. Herzog of Albany and General Hugh S. Johnson of New York city.

In New York city, it was explained, the working hours for skilled labor on WPA jobs may be reduced by General Johnson from 120 hours to 80 hours a month, so that the wage scale will be increased from 75 cents to $1.17 an hour, while the maximum monthly compensation of $93.50 would remain the same. The labor unions in New York city have contended the WPA wages tended to break down union scales. Hopkins said the maximum rates may be made to vary for different sections of the same state, this being left to the discretion of the state administrators.

At the same time Hopkins made it plain the federal administration could continue to advance money to New York's temporary emergency relief administration and to similar agencies in other states for direct relief for persons who have not been given work project jobs by November 1. Previously the federal administration had indicated an intention to withdraw from direct relief by that date.

Lehman Says TERA Free from Politics

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Fredrick L. Daniels of Syracuse was named a member of the Temporary Emergency Relief Administration today to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles D. Osborne of Auburn. Daniels has served as executive director of the TERA.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman announced Osborne's resignation last night and at the same time said he was appointing Daniels to the administration.

Osborne resigned, Mr. Lehman said, because he is a candidate for mayor of Auburn, a post he had previously held.

The governor expressed regret over Osborne's resignation.

Since its creation, the governor added, the TERA has been "one hundred per cent free from politics."

"And that," he said, "will continue at all times to be our policy." Daniels was an associate of Harry L. Hopkins, now federal relief administrator, when Hopkins was chairman of the New York state TERA.

SENATE FANS MUST NOW TURN TO BILBO

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—Political observers in Washington unanimously agreed that it is "The Man Bilbo" to whom senate fans must now turn for the fan and blarney provided them in such ample quantities by the late Huey P. Long.

The stage is set for the small, stunted senator from Mississippi who during the last congress handed every one a surprise by sitting on the sidelines and letting the others perform.

"Bilbo's year of silence" is the way he described his first year in the senate. "Like Job's warhorse of old," he let everybody know at the beginning of his term. "Bilbo will sniff the battle from afar."

"It's just a keen sense of feeling for senatorial ethics. Time-honored rules, observed since the government was in existence, have required a new senator to serve his apprenticeship in silence. So it shall be with Bilbo until January, 1936."

Something in A Name

STANDARD dictionaries define "Bilbo" as a poetical term meaning a sword of great temper. The senator himself, in the dialect of south Mississippi, says his name means "a sword that cuts 'twine and comin'." He is rather proud of the fact that Shakespeare said, as he quotes it, "When they came into close contact, they unsheathed their bilbos and fought to the death."

The Mississippi senator had announced before the death of Long that he intended to break his silence.

next year and stamp the country against him. Although the necessity for that no longer exists, politicians and political observers are convinced the country will hear from Bilbo in the next congress.

He might fool them at that, however. He came to the senate with a record for unconventional behavior, but he has made an impression on the Democratic leaders who say they have found in him a shrewd politician, willing to cooperate with them.

He doesn't wear the diamond tie pin, as large as a quarter, as frequently as he once did. That's indicative of some sort of change in the man, for he once said "It's my lucky piece. If I lost it, I would be lost just as was Samson after Delilah cut his hair."

*****

Master Of Satire

IF BILBO does cut loose in the senate, however, every one within earshot is assured of first class entertainment. He is a different type of orator than was Long.

Bilbo is a master of satire. He is capable of taking the most minor incident and playing on it until it is driven home with telling effect. Long prided himself on his grammatical errors while speaking Bilbo knows that trick, too.

He knows equally well the idiom of the backwoods boys in Mississippi and the English of the proud planters in the delta. He can talk to his audience like the politician and licensed minister that he is, or if necessary, adopt a dignified manner as any member of the senate.

Love for Bryan

Seward, Neb., Sept. 20 (AP)—Georgia "learned to love William Jennings Bryan," Governor Eugene Talmadge of the southern state said here tonight "for his logic of 16 to 1," and his plea for the laboring man. The governor spoke at a Constitution Day meeting sponsored by the American Legion in his address prepared for delivery, Governor

Talmadge, a leading Democratic critic of President Roosevelt's New Deal, also reviewed the situation leading up to the writing of the constitution and its adoption as the law of the land. "This is my first trip to the state of Nebraska," Talmadge said. "My early memories are connected with the great commoner, William Jennings Bryan, who hailed from your state."

MOURNING GHOSTS

Shades of Hanged Pirates
Lose Haunt in London

London (AP)—Shades of many old time pirates who closed their careers at the end of stout ropes will feel personal losses at the closing of one of London's historic hostilities, The Turk's Head.

Its back steps lapped by the Thames the Turk's Head for 400 years has been a hangout for seafaring men including pirates. It offered a convenient land, a sudden getaway.

But it was the pirates who finally ran second to the law who could claim the greatest sentimental attachment to the ancient pub. Over its bar they enjoyed their last "can of bitter."

En route to the gallows, the condemned sea-rovers were permitted to stop for one final quart—no more, no less. It was supplied by the Turk's Head under a contract with the government.

It brought a pleasant break in the procession and gave the miscreant an opportunity to tell his cronies where he'd be seeing them.

May Never Be Found

There are 3,000,000 square miles of the earth's surface yet to be explored, but it's beneath the waters of the Pacific.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Thunder in the Night." Rapid and sinister death stalks through the Broadway feature picture for murder comes unsuspecting and troubles the lives of a group of people gathered in a hotel. It follows the "Grand Hotel" manner in plot construction and treatment and proves to be racy and high powered entertainment. Edmund Lowe is again cast as a slick, devil-may-care detective who tracks down the killer and in so doing finds the girl he has promised to protect all tied up in an air tight case of circumstantial evidence. Others who appear in this Fox murder drama are Karen Morley, Paul Cavanaugh, Una O'Connor, and Gene Lockhart. The play was under the competent direction of George Archainbaud.

Orpheum: "Bride of Frankenstein" and "Clearing the Range." Karloff the uncanny dresses up again as the mechanical man and lumbers through several days of terror while his inventors work feverishly to make a mechanical bride for him in the hope she will soothe and comfort his anguished spirits. The attempt is unsuccessful and the Frankenstein monster breaks loose and does a lot of damage before he is thankfully silenced forever. "Clearing the Range" is one of those routine western thrillers with Hoot Gibson doing the honors.

Kingston: "She Gets Her Man" and "Atlantic Adventure." More double features come to the Kingston, one a comedy, the other a melodrama. The first one, with the talented and bewildered Zazu Pitts in the starring role, tells how a timid and frightened country girl gets tangled up in a bank robbery, becomes a hero and is steered on the road to fame and riches. Helen Twelvrees, Warren Hymer, Hugh O'Connell, Edward Brophy and Lucien Littlefield are featured. "Atlantic Adventure" is the second offering; the detailed account of the lives of a group of people on an Atlantic crossing. Nancy Carroll, Harry Langdon and Lloyd Nolan head the cast of players.

Broadway: "Page Miss Glory." Marion Davies, after a long screen absence, is surrounded by a group of sure fire players in order to insure the production's success and Miss Davies gets along in a big way as she scores her finest comedy hit in pictures. Briefly, the plot shows the rise of a homely little chambermaid to the winner of a beauty contest. Pat O'Brien almost steals the show as a press agent who rockets Miss Davis to fame through the grace of a winning personality and a composite photograph. Dick Powell as a handsome aviator has to sing but one song and Miss Davies tumbles into his arms for keeps. The whole show is silly satire on beauty contests, and the dialogue, acting and direction is so well done that the show must be placed in the don't

PROCLAMATION
The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent: To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster, Greeting:—We command you that you summon to be and appear at a term of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, to be held by a Justice of the Supreme Court, at the Court House, in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, on the First Monday of October, 1935, the several persons who shall have been named to serve as Grand and Petit Jurors at the said court. And we further command you to bring before the said court all prisoners then being in the jail of the said County of Ulster, together with all the processes and proceedings any way concerning them in your hands. And we further command you to make proclamation in the manner prescribed by law, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said court, by recognition or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations, to the said court on the opening thereof on the first day of its sitting, and have them thereat presented.

Witness, Hon. HARRY E. SCHIRCK, one of the Justices of the Peace, Coroners at the Court House, in Kingston, in said County, the 18th day of September, 1935. CLON R. MURRAY, District Attorney.

In pursuance of the above precept, I hereby make proclamation that a term of the Supreme Court of the State of New York and said delivery, will be held at the Court House in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, on the First Monday of October next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day; and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the jail of said County are required to be in and there present in person as may be just, and all persons bound to appear at the said court, by recognizance or otherwise, are required to appear thereat, and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners or other officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who may have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, are required to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations, to the said court, on the opening thereof, and on the first day of its sitting, and to be then and there presented with their oaths and records, indictments and proceedings, in due time, to the said court, at their office or offices. Dated this 18th day of September, 1935. JOHN H. Saxe, Sheriff of Ulster County.

miss class. Frank McHugh, Patsy Kelly and other Warner Brothers comedy acts are to be found in the cast. Good for an evening of chuckles.

Orpheum: Same.
Kingston: "The Murder Man." Exciting as its title and made more enjoyable through the acting ability of Spencer Tracy and the loveliness of Virginia Bruce, this story centers around a mysterious murder and how a newspaper reporter delves tracks down the crime only to find his editor the real facts when his conscience gets the better of his actions. Audiences will discover this to be exceptionally likable screen drama because it moves with a brisk realism through excitement, mystery and uncertainty to reach a smash climax. Mr. Tracy proves to be a genuine and capable actor and Miss Bruce contributes one of her best screen performances. "Amateur Night" is an added feature of the Saturday evening show.

To Sell $115,000 in Equalization Bonds

In carrying out Mayor C. J. Heiselman's plan to reduce the city's tax rate next year by approximately $5 a thousand valuation, City Treasurer C. Ray Everett is advertising today the sale of $115,000 in debt equalization bonds. The bids will be opened at the city treasurer's office in the city hall on Monday afternoon, September 30, at 2 o'clock. The purpose of issuing debt equalization bonds is to extend the time of payment of bonds issued by the City over a period of ten years, instead of paying the bond issues within the next three year period. The plan as prepared by Mayor Heiselman has been approved by the state comptroller and by the Common Council.

Koencke Killed, Jury Rules, in Self-Defense

Toronto, Sept. 20 (AP).—A coroner's jury ruled today that the Detroit airmen, William J. Mulqueeny and Irwin Davis, acted in self-defense when they fought Len Koencke of the Brooklyn Dodgers to death Tuesday in an airplane.

The aviators faced manslaughter charges in a magistrate's court later in the day, confident that they would be freed.

The jury under Coroner Dr. Warren Snyder listened in suburban Islington to evidence that the big league baseball player attacked Pilot Mulqueeny and his companion while flying from Detroit to Buffalo.

Prof. Joslyn Rogers, chemical analyst of the University of Toronto, giving evidence that Koencke was intoxicated, said that "if there was any tendency at all for a man to be violent or quarrelsome," Koencke was in "excellent condition for it to break out."

Both airmen, granted immunity by the court, told again the details of Koencke's attack, their efforts to keep the plane from crashing, and of the fight in which the baseball player was struck down with a fire extinguisher.

SPECULATION OVER SHIPS GROWING AT PORT SAID
Port Said, Sept. 20 (AP).—The mysterious whereabouts of a number of Italian ships which left Genoa as long ago as September 7 today excited speculation when it was revealed that none of them has yet reached the Suez canal.

The time allowed for the voyage is between 5 and 6 days. The Flemonte, the first to leave Genoa, cleared on September 7. The Cesare Sannio, Italia Aquileia and the Calabria, which left between September 13 and September 14, also have yet to appear in Suez waters.

There is no news here of the arrival of any of the ships either in the Italian North African ports of Tripoli and Benghazi or at the Dodecanese Islands.

"TIRED?" You wouldn't be if you slept on a Spring-Air mattress

To the great hospitals of the country, come people who are utterly worn out. And so nurses—perhaps more than any one else, have an opportunity to observe the helpful effects of rest.

It means a great deal, that in the great hospitals everywhere, Spring-Air Mattresses are the standard—for more Spring-Air Mattresses are used on their good beds, than all other makes of spring mattresses combined.

And remember—that not one dollar has ever been used for buying testimony in favor of Spring-Air. This is one product that has been sold honestly—strictly on merit.

Why buy the built-in type spring mattress when you can get the 2-part spring-air mattress... the mattress that is easier to handle.
